

The screenshot displays the Arto 21 web application interface. The top navigation bar includes a search bar, a user profile icon, and a language selector. The main content area is titled 'Arto 21 web' and shows a list of items under the 'Content' section. The sidebar on the left contains navigation links for 'Home', 'Content', 'Users', 'Groups', 'Settings', and 'Help'. The main content area lists items with columns for 'Name', 'Status', 'Created', and 'Updated'. The 'Content' section is currently selected, showing a list of items with their respective status and creation/updated dates. The 'Users' section is also visible, showing a list of users with their status and creation/updated dates. The 'Groups' section is also visible, showing a list of groups with their status and creation/updated dates. The 'Settings' section is also visible, showing a list of settings with their status and creation/updated dates. The 'Help' section is also visible, showing a list of help topics with their status and creation/updated dates.